Pres. Jerome Issues Statement About Review

The aftermath of the May 21 ROTC Review continues to make news -- the latest development being a statement issued by University President William T. Jerome III concerning incidents which took place at the Review.

Dr. Jerome's official statement is as follows:

"In connection with the many charges and counter-charges surrounding Tuesday's ROTC Review, I wish without prejudicing the situation to state unequivocally that physical violence in any form will not be tolerated at this University. I wish also to reaffirm this University's oft stated position that peaceful demonstrations are welcomed and expected. A university inhospitable to varying viewpoints is not worthy of its name. I regret any physical interference that may have occurred during the review. In the future, as a result of the investigations now under way, I am hopeful that additional safeguards can be taken to prevent the recurrence of similar situations which breed only distrust."

The statement was issued at a special meeting of the President's Advisory Council (PAC) Friday.

The President's Advisory Council consists of: President William T. Jerome III, Chairman; Vice-presidents Kenneth H. McFall, Paul F. Leedy and James G. Bond; Senate Executive Council members F. Lee Miesle, Thomas L. Kinney, Joseph Balogh Bowman, John Davidson, Robert Hohn, Allen Kepke, and William Kirby.

Student Council members invited specifically to attend this session were Nick Licate, president; Lee McClelland, vice president; Ted Arneault, treasurer; and Sarah Ross, secretary.

The council established a Fact-Finding Commission to investigate events which took place during the Review. A preliminary report is due to the PAC by June 5, and another more conclusive report before the fall quarter begins. Commission members include Dr. Robert Goodwin, chairman of the philosophy department; Dr. Agnes Hooley, professor in health and physical education; Dr. Raymond Barker, associate professor of marketing; Dr. Stuart Glens, history department chairman; dean of women Fayetta Paulsen; Dorothy Brown, junior in liberal arts; Thomas Parrish, junior in business administration; Kenneth Rohrs, junior in liberal arts, and Richard N. Seaman, graduate student.

The commission has also issued an invitation to "all interested parties" to submit written statements concerning events during the ROTC review to the commission chairmen. These statements are to be turned in no later than noon tomorrow to room 108 of the Graduate Center.

Other developments included a letter signed by over 100 faculty members condemning President Jerome for failing to protect the safety of demonstrators at the review.

Phillip F. O'Connor, assistant professor of English and a signer of the letter, said fears that a precedent of no protection for demonstrators would be set prompted the letter.

A copy has been sent to the President's office, Mr. O'Connor explained.

"President Jerome's official statement on the issue is at least a first step toward correction," O'Connor added.

GETTING UP IN THE WORLD --Three university students assist the center of attraction "the pig" at the Darrow Hall sponsored 1st All Campus Pig Chase and Chicken Catch. The animal was somewhat uncooperating though refusing to do much running. The event was held Saturday on the intramural fields.

MAKING THE ARREST singlehandedly, Saturday on the driver of a stolen car near Harshman was Campus Security officer Sgt. Robert Ott. Moments after the stolen car report was radioed to campus police, Sgt. Ott spotted the vehicle. He stated he followed the car down the Harshman drive until it was stopped in traffic. "I had no time to call for help. I drew my gun, ordered him out of the car and handcuffed him," Sgt. Ott stated. "It was all over." The subject, Tommy Lee Hinton, Detroit, faces auto theft charges here and in Toledo, where he is now being held pending prosecution. Searching the car (at right) is city Patrolman Fox.

Supreme Court Approves Jailing Draft Card Burners

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court approved Monday the jailing of Vietnam war protesters who burn their draft cards.

The 7-1 ruling, given by Chief Justice Earl Warren, rejected a free-speech attack on the 1965 federal law that made destruction of draft cards a crime.

"We cannot accept the view," said Warren, "that an apparently limitless variety of conduct can be labeled 'speech' whenever the person engaging in the conduct intends thereby to express an idea."

The Constitution, he continued, gives Congress broad and sweeping power to raise and support armies and to make sure the draft system functions with maximum efficiency.

Speech Forum Set For Today

A "Freedom of Speech Forum" will be held today at 3 p.m. in front of Williams Hall for the purpose of discussing the rights of freedom of speech on the Bowling Green campus.

Topics to be covered at the all-campus meeting will include the limits, legality and protection of free speech on the campus, according to Student Body President Nick Licate.

Guest speakers have been scheduled for the event, among them are University President William T. Jerome III; Dr. Trevor Phillips, an assistant professor of education; Allen V. Wiley, professor of economics; an as yet unnamed Interfraternity Council member; Ashley Brown, a senior in liberal arts and Roger Schmidt, a senior in education.

Others who attend the forum are invited to speak also, according to Licate, who added that in the event of bad weather the meeting would be postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Justice William O. Douglas, dissenting, said it is undoubtedly true that Congress has these powers when war has been declared.

"The underlying and basic problem in this case, however, is whether conscription is permissible in the absence of a declaration of war," he added.

Justice Thurgood Marshall did not vote, presumably because of his recent service in the Justice Department as U.S. solicitor general.

The court, turning next on a busy day to desegregation of public schools in the South, said freedom-of-choice attendance plans "must be held unacceptable" when there are other reasonable ways, such as zoning, to convert to a nonracial school system.

The burden of dismantling dual school systems for white and Negro children, found unconstitutional by the court in 1954, cannot be passed on to parents and children by having them select the school to be attended, Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in an opinion for a unanimous court.

"The burden on a school board today is to come forward with a plan that promises realistically to work now," he said. The word "now" was italicized for emphasis.

With this pronouncement the Court unanimously disapproved freedom-of-choice plans in New Kent County, Va., and Gould, Ark., and a "free transfer" plan in Jackson, Tenn.

Jack Greenberg, director counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., issued a statement saying the court "has now made it clear that the time for deliberate speed has expired."

He said the decision will be "extremely useful in stepping up the pace of desegregation and his organization will immediately reopen most of its 200 pending school desegregation cases in the South.

Greenberg added: "As a result of this litigation the Department of Health, Education and Welfare must require performance according to the new higher standards."

In other important actions the court:

--Agreed to hear an appeal next term that it extend to the states the federal rule requiring that suspects seized by police be brought promptly before a judge or magistrate.

--Deadlocked on, and therefore rejected, an attempt by the Civil Aeronautic Board to give supplemental air carriers the right to offer "all expense" overseas tour charters.

'Mistreatment' Spurs Cop, Fireman Appeals

NEW YORK (AP) -- The police and firemen of the nation's biggest city spent more than $24,000 Monday on an appeal to the public to quit mistreating them during the performance of their duties.

The Uniformed Fireman's Association and the Patrolman's Benevolent Association each bought full-page ads in the morning New York Times and New York Daily News asking forbearance. The policemen also took a page in the afternoon Post. The total cost was $24,240.

"We can't put out fires and dodge beer bottles," said a caption on the fireman's ad, which pictured a department member lying unconscious with fragments of a shattered bottle by his head.

"It's Awful The Way They're Trying To Influence Congress. Why Don't They Serve Cocktails And Make Campaign Contributions Like We Do?"

And They Marched

Sunday more than 100 people in sympathy with the "Poor People's March" in Washington, walked through campus and the city with arms linked, and singing songs typifying the civil rights movement.

Their display was both dramatic and moving.

Emotional sentiments can hit home all the harder when such means are used to personify the cause.

This movement was a protest demonstration of a kind to which there could be little opposition. The evils being attacked were ignorance, poverty, disease, and all the other social ills members of this society have been plagued with for decades.

Good comes from a demonstration such as this. It points out problems to those people who for so long have felt isolated from the despair and penury of the more unfortunate. It forces us to stop and think.

What's more, it may even cause some of us to act, in any way we can to fight the very real war that poor people must fight.

A conscientious attitude on the part of the public at large will provide the needed initiative to win this war. We hope such a march as was witnessed here Sunday can stimulate constructive action toward these ends.

Letters From Our Readers

Why Classes?

The purpose of this letter is to bring to your attention the action taken by the Kohl Hall Administrative Council on May 15, 1968. In an open meeting of the Council, it was unanimously decided to write a letter protesting the existing policy of holding classes on the approaching National Holiday of Decoration Day, or Memorial Day, as some prefer to call it.

As mentioned before, this day is a National Holiday, a National Holiday set aside to honor the dead of any and all American Wars. These men have fought and died to preserve the American System of government and the American way of life. One of the principles of the American System of government and one of the privileges of the American way of life is the right of protest. We, the Kohl Hall Administrative Council, do hereby protest the University's existing policy of holding classes on Memorial Day, a day set aside to honor the men who died to secure us our right to do so.

Thank you for your consideration.

Wade E. Turvy, President
John E. Griebal, Secretary

Forgotten Goal

People say they want student riots, sit-ins, and demonstrations for more individual and intellectual freedom.

That is what appears to be the desires of college students in the United States today with Bowling Green's students not far behind. As you walk around this campus or as you read the B-G News, the students here are constantly dissatisfied with one thing or another about the campus. It appears that the students want to control and run everything.

Some of the students have even gone so far as wanting to abolish ROTC at Bowling Green.

Doesn't anyone come to Bowling Green for education anymore? Let's eliminate the midget mentality and strive for a superior educational system at Bowling Green. I feel that the students should come to college for the best possible education that they can get. What we really need at Bowling Green are better educational facilities and many more highly qualified professors. This should be the college students first desired goal. If you don't want an education, then don't come to college. Let's stop being petty, buckle down, and study for the future of America.

Isn't it about time that the students at Bowling Green stand up for what college is really for--an education?

Did Not Sign

Like many who shared considerable sympathy with those who signed the petition recommending the termination of ROTC training at Bowling Green, I did not sign that document because its wording seemed to oversimplify a situation which would particularly suffer from oversimplification.

The even greater error of elevating the military, and weaponry as a science, into the major instruments of American foreign policy is also a current fact--and a national tragedy. Nevertheless, in my generation, whose traumatic experiences were the Depression (which of course, is just a hole in the ground to the modern college student) and World War II, the availability of a small, disciplined, cadre of trained officers was more obviously appreciated.

I do repeat and suggest, however, even to my friends who are military officers (and I was one myself) that to encourage man's evolution to a higher destiny, the glorification of the military tradition should stop. It is therefore unseemly, in my view, that we have "Days" set aside full of flags, bands, and mini-skirted girls somehow creating the impression that the military profession is on a par with creative professions and that a young man should be encouraged to devote years to preparing himself for constructive life and then spend his life in the American War Corps (our extremely important counterpart to the relatively unimportant Peace Corps).

We have enough hyper-aggressive types who find their way into the various Service Schools where they can march and shoot off guns to their hearts' content. An institution calling itself a University doesn't need to perform a recruiting function.

If a spectacle is desired, how about a mud fight, bed-pushing, pie-eating or fish-swallowing contest?

Student Power

The world is changing! Whether one likes it or not changes are bound to occur. Sometimes one has a feeling that the world is living in the 20th Century but still likes to think and act in the 19th Century way. There is no doubt that all over the world today many national or political leaders are nothing but a disappointment to the young generation.

Above all, there are at stake conflicting views of what a university is about: on the one hand the view that the university is a liberal institution whose chief functions are teaching and research; on the other, the view that students should be given a powerful voice in university affairs and that universities should be politically committed.

The student power faction, in every country, except, maybe France, has been a small minority, but appears to be growing larger and also becoming a potentially disruptive one. Of course, this too, is a matter of opinion. I have a feeling the students want our present leaders to stop "pussy-footing around" and start to face reality and, in fact, keep their promises.

In France, Germany, Asia, Africa, Latin America, and even the U.S., the students are on the alert, waiting to see what the governments intend to do about schools and universities as well as about the police brutality which has become as big an issue in every country lately. One thing is sure though, that is the cold, hostile stare of youth disconcerts the politicians and cramps their style. They are beginning to feel that the old days, when the government was playing politics. The Vietnam War has become a political football between the two world powers. The problems of Southern Rhodesia, S.W. Africa, and even South Africa have almost been forgotten as urgent ones simply because these "few powerful nations" have vested interests in these trouble spots where injustice, and even atrocities are used by minorities over the majorities.

The world student revolts, in fact, are a sign of better things to come. Students are beginning to think more objectively rather than taking things as they are. We must realize that the world may become a more peaceful place if only we learn to be more objective in our actions.

Who says the students have no right to question? Our present leaders may lead us to another world war if we don't question their actions. There is no doubt, for example, that "Uncle" Charles de Gaulle may come out of the present French revolt as a more objective ruler.

And, of course, who knows what the students in Moscow have up their sleeves? Brezhnev and Kosygin seem to be preoccupied with the effects of what is happening in Czechoslovakia (Czechs are going Western!) that the students may take the opportunity to spring a surprise on them.

While there are divergences among the students in each country, that is between the less and the more politically minded, between reformers and revolutionaries, between those concerned more about jobs and those concerned more with the structure of society, there is agreement on one thing. We just have to change with the times.

Negligence Charge Answered

Police Defended

By JIM MARINO
Editorial Editor

"It was a hell-if-you-do, hell-if-you-don't situation," said Spencer T. Calcamuggio, University chief of campus security, in reference to the actions of his officers at last Tuesday's Presidential Review.

"Sure, we could have broken up every large gathering of people we saw, but that would have only led to charges of 'brutality' if we couldn't show due cause," the chief said in an interview.

Recent letters to the editor here have charged Campus Security with negligence during the Review, and Chief Calcamuggio and A.J. Galbraith, assistant chief were eager to defend themselves.

"While my men were in the field Tuesday they were under my orders," the chief said. "No one else's. I gave them specific instructions not to be baited into breaking up crowds unless they personally witnessed a violation. I'm not in the least ashamed of the action of any of my officers."

"As security officers, we did everything we could to see things through safely," chief Galbraith offered. "I was on top of University Hall with binoculars directing some of the foot patrolmen to areas where trouble might be brewing."

The officers were asked about a noisy crowd of some 200 persons Tuesday gathered at the base of University Hall, and reported to have assaulted several peace marchers then seated in the middle of the throng.

Chief Calcamuggio began, "I entered the crowd myself to ask those people sitting down if they wanted to move out. They said, 'no,' and I could see they were not being hurt. I saw no reason to break up the crowd there."

"We have one negligence charge pending against us. There are also about six other charges of assault on file here, (student vs. student) but arrests can't be made unless witnesses come forward and assist in signing affidavits," the Chief said.

The chief said negligence charges involved were not criminal charges and probably will be handled through the University level rather than in court. If found guilty of such charges, the Security department could be censured to that effect, the chief explained.

"As far as the assault charges go, if people will come forward and aid us in identifying those who assaulted them, this department is prepared to offer its services in any way it can," Chief Calcamuggio stated.

"Personally, my department was 'handcuffed' during the Review because administrators wouldn't allow us to take pictures," he said. "Still pictures aren't that accurate -- they're open to various interpretations. But I'd like to be able to take movie pictures of the incidents to help identify the troublemakers."

The chief said University sentiment existed that the Security department was "making files," on everyone it took pictures of but this feeling was "ridiculous".

"We have no such files on anyone. I wouldn't have the storage space for the number of files people accuse me of having," chief Calcamuggio remarked.

"But taking movies of fights is a very realistic and helpful way of aiding law enforcement here."

"One thing for sure. I think the whole incident last Tuesday is drawn out of proportion. Judging from what I saw, I would say the Review was non-violent," the chief added.

Good Advice

The use of NoDoz and other "pep pills" by students during exam time may result in nervous exhaustion, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and "nervous jitters," according to Dr. H. L. Burnette, director of the Student Medical Center.

The use of these drugs often can prevent normal performance at exam time, Dr. Burnette warned.

The drugs stimulate only temporarily, then the student becomes listless, unable to function normally, and sometimes, actually ill, said Dr. Burnette. Students have sometimes been brought to the Medical Center in a state of collapse after use of these drugs, he added.

Excessive amounts of coffee or tea will frequently result in the same ill effects, Dr. Burnette cautioned.

Injured High School Football Star To Come Home June 25

Preparations continue for the anticipated return home of Steve Beattie on June 25.

Two women, one of them a registered nurse, have returned to Bowling Green from California after receiving training at Rancho Los Amigos Hospital in Downey, Calif. They will be in charge of the care and rehabilitation therapy when he comes home.

Steve, who has been a patient in the California hospital since March of 1967, will be confined to Wood County Hospital for a short period before he goes to his home. He went to California from Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus, where he was taken immediately after the injury.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Beattie, parents of the ex-Bowling Green High School student injured in a football game at Mansfield on Sept. 24, 1966, are making alterations in their home on West Wooster Street for Steve's return.

Steve has been outfitted with a wheel chair equipped with tongue-operated switches so he can control it himself. The chair also includes an electronic arm, which Steve will be able to operate with tongue switches, eventually permitting him more use of his arm. He is paralyzed from the neck down, although he is gaining more use of muscles in the shoulder area.

He will return to Bowling Green from California via a special hospital airplane furnished by the U. S. Air Force, through the cooperation of Congressman Delber. L. Latta (R-Bowling Green).

The two women were in California for the training for two weeks. They will train other persons here in the treatment and care of Steve.

More regular relief help is needed, and anybody available on certain days of the week, on a regular basis, are asked to contact Dr. or Mrs. Beattie.

They stressed that the workers will be reimbursed for their time at a mutually agreeable rate.

Goldwater Seeks U.S. Senate Seat

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Barry Goldwater formally opened his campaign to return to the U.S. Senate today, saying the "chaos which merely threatened" when he was first elected in 1952 "engulfs us now."

No Change

No changes in library hours will be made during finals week, according to library officials.

The usual 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. hours will be maintained, although Saturday the library will remain open until 10 p.m. Also, the building will be open June 7, from 2 to 5 p.m. so that graduating seniors and their parents may tour the building.

"The crisis then has become the disaster of today," he said in announcing for nomination to the Senate which he left to run unsuccessfully as the Republican nominee for president in 1964.

Goldwater is seeking the seat, being vacated by U.S. Sen. Carl Hayden, who is retiring at 90 after serving Arizona in the House and Senate since it became a state in 1912.

Hayden's administrative aide, Roy Elson, is seeking the Democratic nomination in that Sept. 10 primary, with Robert Kennedy, state treasurer, expected to oppose him. No primary opposition is in sight for Goldwater.

Netters Close Campaign With 9-4 Record

By DAVID EGBERT
Assistant Sports Editor

Bowling Green tennis competition is through for the year as the Falcon netters closed the season with a highly successful 9-4 record, the fourth best mark in coach Robert Keefe's 13 years of skipping the team.

But the end of a season marks the beginning of practice for next spring's schedule, as the Falcons will try to iron out some of their weak spots during summer play.

Bowling Green will have a number of lettermen returning next year, including the top three players, Mike Miller, Denny Cavanaugh and Mike Costello, along with Guenter Herold and Dan Norris.

This strong nucleus will definitely have to be reckoned with. The top three had a combined singles mark of 30-9 during regular season competition.

BG came back from its spring trip with a record of 4-2, beating Ohio State, Marshall, West Virginia and Kent State, while sustaining losses to Ohio University and Virginia Tech.

The Falcons then won three straight home matches against Dayton, Ball State and Wayne State, raising their mark to 7-2.

Their final four matches were split, losing to conference powers Toledo, winner of the MAC championships, and Western Michigan while defeating Northern Illinois and Eastern Michigan.

Traveling to Kent for the MAC championships, the Falcons finished fourth as they were beaten by Toledo, Western Michigan and Ohio U.

Still, everyone won at least one match before dropping out in the semifinals. BG has some good netters, and playing their best tennis, they could cause a lot of trouble in the 1969 MAC race.

Falcon '9' Splits Series With WMU

By MIKE CORE
Assistant Sports Editor

"Our record is indicative of the type of season which it was," said Coach Dick Young, referring to the 13-13-1 varsity baseball mark. "It was a season of 13's in more than just the record."

This past weekend's split with Western Michigan gave the Falcons the double thirteen mark. It also made a big difference in the standings as far as where Bowling Green finished. By losing the Saturday game to the Broncos, the Falcons slipped from a second place tie to a fifth place spot.

Bowling Green got off on the right foot Friday by downing Western, 5-3, behind the pitching of Bill Becker and Doug Huwer. Becker got the win and Huwer got a save with some fine clutch relief pitching.

One blow against the Falcons came in the game though, as shortstop Mel Karnehm broke a finger in the third inning and was through for the weekend.

However, on Saturday, the tables turned and the Falcons lost 4-2. John Frobose, plagued all year by unearned runs, found his teammates kicking away five chances and allowing three unearned runs, and thereby dropping the Falcons from second to fifth.

"I don't believe that you win baseball games," said Young, "you lose them. That's exactly what we did Saturday and that's what Western did Friday. By not fielding a Texas League hit properly, they gave us a chance and we scored. By our not fielding properly, we lost the game."

Young was pleased at the over all performance, though. "I felt we played some of the best ball that we had played all year. Mentally we played errorless, but physically we had some trouble on Saturday."

Looking back over the whole season, Young was both pleased and displeased. "We did accomplish something. We won 13 games, had a .500 season and were in contention somewhat for the MAC which we had hopes of winning."

Young continued, "We scored 23 runs in two games from the champs, but we didn't win. Our veteran pitchers didn't come through as we had hoped, but then they didn't get the breaks when they were needed."

Injuries hurt the Falcons this year. It started even before the season began when sophomore Bob Kosower broke his leg in practice. Tom Creekmore, one of the homerun leaders for the Falcons, broke his wrist at Ohio U. and was out for three weeks, and then Karnehm broke a finger in the WMU game. His fielding was missed in the next game in which the Falcons needed to win to finish in a second-place tie.

Also, three games in the MAC were rained out, one each against Toledo, Kent, and Miami. The Falcons in one game against each of those teams had a 2-1 record. Two games against Cincinnati were rained out.

Young points out that next year it may be even more important to get a game played since the MAC season will be expanded from 12 games to 18 games. The teams will play one Friday game and two Saturday games. If Saturday should be rained out, that means double trouble.

Sometimes during the year the Falcons started only one senior so they should have good experience coming back next season.

However, they will be losing the likes of Dan Godby, Roger Doyt, Bill Becker, and John Frobose, all solid performers over the past three years for the Falcons.

Frosh Stickers Dumped 7-6

The Ohio Wesleyan JV Lacrosse team tallied the only goal in the final quarter and broke a 6-6 tie, spilling the Bowling Green freshman squad 7-6.

The defeat left the frosh record at 2-2 on the season.

The hosts from Wesleyan overcame a 3-0 deficit with a three-goal second quarter. Both squads traded goals in the third period, and the score read 6-6 entering the final period.

The Falcon frosh lofted 36 shots in the contest to capture a two shot margin there, but the Wesleyan goalie was forced to stop only nine of the shots.

Falcon goalie, Joe Crowell did a fine job in the goal, turning back 17 Wesleyan tosses.

Bruce Correll, and Steve Sachse paced the Falcon scoring with two goals apiece, while Martin Best and Bill Kalbfleisch added single tallies. Sam Giarrusso and Rich Lieberfarb each assisted two goals in the contest for the frosh.

Correll opened the scoring midway throughout the period scoring unassisted at the 6:34 mark, after six Falcon shot attempts went wide. The Wesleyan stickers did not manage to score in the first period.

Best took only 1.55 to add to the Falcon lead, and Lieberfarb's assist to Kalbfleisch upped the score to 3-0 at the 5:10 mark of the second stanza. The Falcons were unable to score again, but the hosts erupted for three straight goals, the first coming at the 10:17 mark, and successive goals at 13:28 and 14:30.

The third period was very productive for both teams, with the Falcons tallying first at the 2:29 mark when Giarrusso fed Sachse with a pass.

The host Wesleyan stickers ran off three straight goals then to take a 6-4 margin. They scored tallies at 3:31, 5:07, and 7:10.

The freshman managed to knot the score with two goals, Giarrusso to Sachse, and Lieberfarb to Correll. The momentum was not carried into the final period, however, as only the hosts scored.

Finish Second In Midwest

Falcon Lacrossers Blast Ohio Wesleyan 16-6

By GARY DAVIS
Sports Editor

Ohio Wesleyan had battled Ohio State and Denison to tight decisions, and their three second period goals against the Falcons left them behind only 7-4 at the half.

The Falcon lacrossers seemingly in run-a-way fashion had tossed in five first period goals, but at the half the impression changed, and at the start of the second period when it took the hosts only 17 seconds to narrow the gap to 7-5, the Falcons thought back to '67.

Bowling Green in a strong finish though blasted the Wesleyan stickers 16-6, fashioning a seven goal final period; combining for the lofty total were 11 Falcons.

"We played a pretty consistent game all the way through," said head coach Mickey Cochrane.

Chuck Winters

The Falcons who have made a habit of playing consistently strong lacrosse in recent weeks, have upped their overall record to 8-3, second in the Midwest, behind only repeating champs Denison.

This was the final contest for four Falcon seniors, Greg Kirkland, John Feasel, John Boos, and Dick Slater, and all went out in fine style. The personal efforts of these veterans complemented by the overall fine team effort paced the Falcons to their rousing finish over a good Wesleyan stick club.

"I still think they're a good team," said Cochrane.

Maybe so, but not good enough to stay with the surging Falcons. Leading the BG charge were Chuck Winters and Steve Hart who both managed the three goal hat trick. Both added two assists for five point afternoons.

Jack Ross, Mike Hicks, and Dick Slater added two goals each, while Sal Zanfardino, John Dohms, Joe Zimmerman, and Al Fromm contributed solo tallies.

Nine of the Falcon tallies were assisted, and in addition to the assists by Winters and Hart, Pete Farrell and John Dohms added two each. Greg Kirkland rounded out the total with one assist.

Bowling Green set a shot record of 71 against the completely out-classed University of Michigan earlier this season, but the 69 shots taken against this fine Midwest opponent (Wesleyan) was outstanding.

"We were getting the shots early, then all of a sudden they began to fall," said Cochrane.

The Falcons took 14 in each of the first two quarters, and came on in the second half to pummel the Wesleyan goalie with 20 and 21 shots in the final quarters. The host stickers' goalie, Jan Baron was forced to make 24 stops in the game.

The Wesleyan stickers managed to get off only 28 shots in the contest, and only nine of those in the final half as the Falcons clamped the lid on the OWU offensive efforts. Barry White, the Wesleyan leading scorer landed three goals in the initial half, but John Feasel ended White's afternoon there, shutting him out in the final half of action.

Bowling Green despite taking the early lead 5-1 after one period were unable to top the Wesleyan clearing attempts. The concerted effort in the second half though, broke almost 50 percent of the attempted clears, as the hosts made 19 but failed on another 16 tries.

The Falcons after a few shaky moments, came around to clear successfully on 19 tries, and fail only seven occasions.

BG Thinclads Top Standings In All-Ohio Federation Meet

Six meet records were set and two were tied, three Bowling Green varsity records were set and six field records were set at the All-Ohio and Federation track meet held on Saturday at Robert D. Whitaker Track in Bowling Green.

Although it was a nonscoring meet, an unofficial score kept by coach Brodt showed Bowling Green with 58 and one-third points to take first, Miami showed 48 points, Ohio State University showed 39 points, Kent State showed 29 points, and the Ohio University freshman team and Cincinnati showed a tie for fifth with 25 points.

Bruce McDaniel of Wilberforce set the meet record in the triple jump with a distance of 48 feet 10 1/2 inches. Aaron Hopkins, of Toledo, failed to participate in the meet. Hopkins has the second longest triple jump in the nation. McDaniel also won the long jump.

Sid Sink set the meet record in the 3,000 meter steeplechase with a time of 9:17.7. Dan Sekerak was fourth, and Bob Parks was fifth. Parks had never run the steeplechase before.

Ted Downing of Miami set the meet record in the high jump with a height of 6 feet 10 inches. Stan Allen finished third with a height of 6 feet 6 inches. Tom Light tied with two other jumpers for fifth place at 6 feet 4 inches.

Dick Bruggeman of Ohio State University set the meet record in the 440 yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 52.8 seconds.

Paul Talkington set the meet record in the three-mile run with a time of 14:42.5. Talkington also finished second in the one mile run with a 4:18.1 clocking. Jim Calloway of Cincinnati was first with a time of 4:15.6.

David Leitch, freshman from Ohio University, set the meet and field record in the hammer throw with a toss of 163 feet 6 inches. Dan Litzinger finished third with 153 feet 4 inches.

John Linta of Kent State tied the meet record of 15 feet 6 inches in the pole vault.

Bowling Green's 440-yard relay team tied the meet record with a time of 41.4 seconds. The relay was run by Bobby James, Rich Perrin, Robert Horne, and Henry Williams.

Jim Reardon set a Bowling Green varsity and field record in the discus throw. The 176-foot toss bettered Reardon's Mid-American Conference record of 173 feet 7 inches set on Saturday, May 18, 1968.

Merl Michaelis set a varsity record in the shotput with a 52 foot 8 inch throw. Vaughn Davis of Mount Union was first with 53 feet 11 and 3/4 inches.

Jeff Huston set a varsity record in the javelin throw with a throw of 207 feet 10 inches. Roy Madson of Ohio University won the event with a throw of 210 feet 9 inches.

In the open division, Gary Stenlund of the Hocking Valley Track Club threw the javelin 250 feet 1 inch to win the event and set a field record.

Art Sanders, of Miami, set a field record in the 120-yard high hurdle event with a time of 14.3 seconds.

Exodus Lett of Ashland College set a field record in the 440 yard dash to take first with a time of 47.4 seconds. Lett broke his own record of 48.3 set three weeks earlier.

Orin Richburg of Kent State set a field record of 21.2 seconds for the 220-yard dash. Perrin was third with a 21.7 second clocking.

James won the 100-yard dash with 9.7 seconds just ahead of Richburg who was clocked in 9.8 seconds, and O.J. Harbold of Baldwin-Wallace also clocked in 9.8 seconds.

Bowling Green's Ken Kelly finished a close second behind Kent State's Sam Bair in the 880 yard run. Bair was clocked in 1:55. Kelly had a 1:55.1 timing. Bair also placed fourth in the three-mile run.

NO DOZ ANNOUNCES THE EXAM PILL

(If you flunk, at least you'll be awake.)

Sure you've used NoDoz to help you stay awake the night before an exam.

But have you ever thought of taking NoDoz to make yourself a little sharper during the exam itself?

Well, maybe you should.

Let's say you're one of those guys who doesn't have to cram like mad the night before. (Even so, you're probably not getting your usual amount of sleep.)

And let's say the morning of the big exam, you find yourself heading for class, kind of drowsy and unwound and wondering if The Great Brain has deserted you in the night.

What do you do?

You panic, that's what you do.

Or, if you happened to read this ad, you walk coolly over to the water cooler and wash down a couple of NoDoz, the Exam Pill. And before long you're feeling more alert and with it again.

You see, NoDoz helps bring you up to your usual level of alertness, so you don't just sit there in a fog; it's got what it takes to help restore your perception, your recall, and even your ability to solve problems.

In fact, NoDoz contains the strongest stimulant for your mind that you can take without a prescription. Yet it's not habit forming.

Okay, but what about the guy who goes off all term and has to jam everything in the night before.

Are we saying NoDoz will keep him from flaming out?

Nope.

We're just saying he'll be alert and awake.

As he flunks.

White And Black Together

University faculty members and students held their own version of the "Poor Peoples' March on Washington" Sunday afternoon.

Leaving from the Ice Arena at 1:45, the group of over 115 persons marched down Ridge Street to Main Street and south on Main Street to Wooster.

Marching in a steady rain, the group sang "We Shall Overcome" and chanted phrases calling for the unification of "White and Black America" to work together to end poverty.

The marchers then proceeded east on Wooster Street. At the corner of Wooster and Thurston they sat in the street blocking one lane of traffic as they prayed. They then continued east on Wooster Street to Center Fraternity Row.

The marchers then paused in front of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, which had Wallace for President stickers in the windows, and heard Dave Bethany, master's candidate, call for the end of discrimination at the University.

After Bethany spoke, the group proceeded to the new Student Services Building, where a short talk was given by Mr. William J. Beausay, instructor in sociology.

Organizers of the Bowling Green march were Bethany and Roger G. Schmidt, a senior in education.

Sunday. Approximately 120 participated in the march.

WE SHALL OVERCOME -- It was the theme of Sunday's march as it has served in demonstrations over the past several years. Here, concerned BG students and faculty members offer the song while temporarily stopping one lane of traffic on Route 6.

SPEAKING OUT -- Dave Bethany (center with sunglasses and microphone) speaks to both marchers and interested passersby while the group pauses in front of fraternity row. From a second story patio, a few Greeks look on.
